

GRR (Great reading Race)

Name:

The triathlon

Read a non-fiction book on a subject that you do not know about.

Signed

Free choice.

THE GREAT READING RACE

Signed

Read a fiction book by any author that you have not read before.

Signed

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!

Name: _____

The relay

Read a non-fiction book on any subject.

Signed

Read a book of your choice—fiction or non-fiction.

Signed

THE GREAT READING RACE

Read a fiction book by any author.

Signed

Read a magazine/website or newspaper.

Signed

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!

Name:

The hurdles

Read a non-fiction book.

Signed:

Read a book someone else has recommended.

Signed:

Signed:

Read a prize-winning book.

THE GREAT READING RACE

Read a book your Mum or Dad like.
Signed:

Read a classic book.

Signed:

Read a graphic novel.

Signed:

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!

Name: _____

The decathlon

Read a text r suggested by the librarian.
Signed:

Read a non-fiction book.

Signed:

Free choice.

Signed:

Read a poem.

Signed:

Signed:

Read a short story.

THE GREAT READING RACE

Free choice.
Signed:

Read a magazine.

Signed:

Read a short story.

Signed:

Read a graphic novel.

Signed:

Signed:

Read Stuff or a newspaper.

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!

Name: _____

The half marathon: 13 miles, 193 yards

1. Read a prizewinning novel.

2. Free choice.

3. Tell two people about a book you have read and encourage them to read it.

4. Find something new and different to read.

5. Read a book that has been made into a film.

13. Read a newspaper or news website.

193 yards!
Read a book you love.

THE GREAT READING RACE

6. For at least one week read for ten minutes each morning and evening.

12. Read a fiction novel.

11. Read a magazine or blog.

10. Read a short story.

9. Ask your English teacher or librarian for a recommendation.

8. Write a review of a book.

7. Read a biography or an autobiography.

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!

NAME:

The marathon: 26 miles, 385 yards

THE GREAT READING RACE

1. Read a book that someone else likes!
2. Write a book review.
3. Ask your English teacher for a recommendation.
4. Read an autobiography.
5. Read a horror or mystery.
6. Read a short story.
7. Read a graphic novel.
8. Free choice.
9. Read a non-fiction book.
10. Read a narrative poem.
11. Read a short story.
12. Read a magazine or website.
13. Read a fiction novel.
14. Read a newspaper or news website.
15. Read a science fiction novel.
16. Read a poetry book.
17. Read the librarian's choice.
18. Read a humorous or funny book.
19. Re-read a childhood favourite.
20. Read a prize winner.
21. Free choice.
22. Read a classic novel.
23. Read a short story.
24. Read a friend's choice.
25. Find something new.
26. Read a book that's also a film.

385 yards. Read a book you love.

Your challenge is to make it around the track by completing all the lengths of the race. You can complete the challenges in any order and must get them signed or ticked off by someone at home, your English teacher or the librarian. Good luck and get racing!